

Conceptual sketch of the picnic grove alludes to Jens Jensen's iconic council rings and incorporates the use of stone in its walls and tables.

Conceptual sketch of the entry into the fen at the SW corner of the park. It features a natural looking "Woodcrete" fence and a decorative wooden bridge.

Handprint pattern to be incorporated into concrete around children's playground.

Early conceptual sketches of the picnic grove.

The park's northern most path will be realigned closer to the street and the dense shrub masses along Berkshire will be cut back to improve visibility. The new tree lined path will form a series of spaces known as "Flowering Dells."
